SAFETY & SECURITY

Here are a few of our recommendations which will help to make your day at the beach safe and enjoyable:

- Take sunscreen, sunglasses and a wide-brimmed hat for protection from harmful UV rays. A long-sleeved shirt or other cover-up may also be a good addition to your gear.
- Bring plenty of water to prevent dehydration.
- Swim only in the designated swimming areas, never swim too far from the shore, and always use the buddy system.
- If possible, check the weather and wave conditions before you go and be alert of changing conditions.
- A life-jacket, or personal flotation device (PFD), is the single most important piece of safety equipment for anyone using a boat, and we recommend that you wear it for most watersport activities.
- The 'Watersports Liability Waiver' form is mandatory for some watersports.
- Due to safety reasons, we kindly advise you to avoid jet ski operations as they are not regulated by the government and do not have insurance for the clients who decide to take the risk. Our team is here to assist you with alternative, high-quality water activities.
